SiWiC at a turning point

The Swiss international Coaching Project for Choreographers (SiWiC) was founded in 1997 by Richard Wherlock and Regina Christen with the aim to support young choreographers in the field of contemporary artistic dance. After 15 years of successful pioneering work SiWiC will not be continued in the existing form as from 2012.

Considering the financial and organisational resources available the aspired high level of artistic expression and professionalism can't be maintained any more. The world of dance of today requires new concepts and approaches. The association profession choreographie will continue to exist and will look for future-oriented solutions.

The 15. SiWiC takes place from 2. - 16. July 2011 in Tanzhaus Zürich. Artistic director is the performer, dancer, teacher and choreograph Nigel Charnock.
